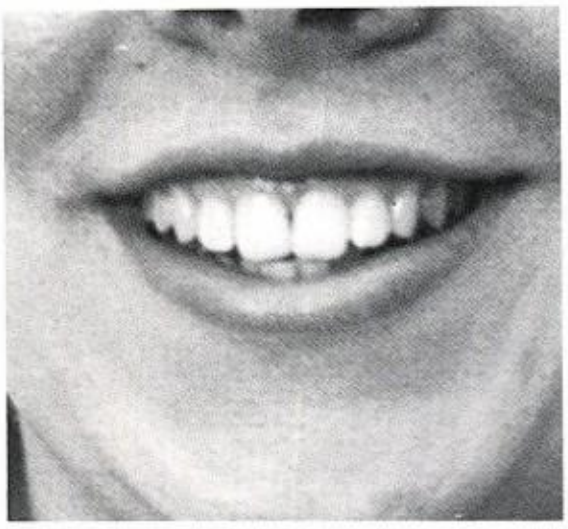
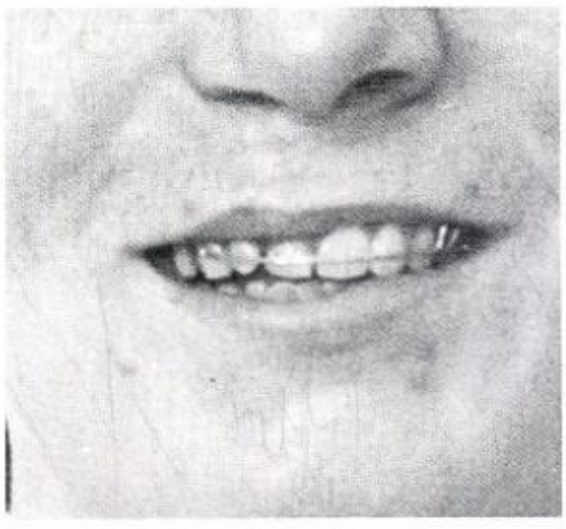
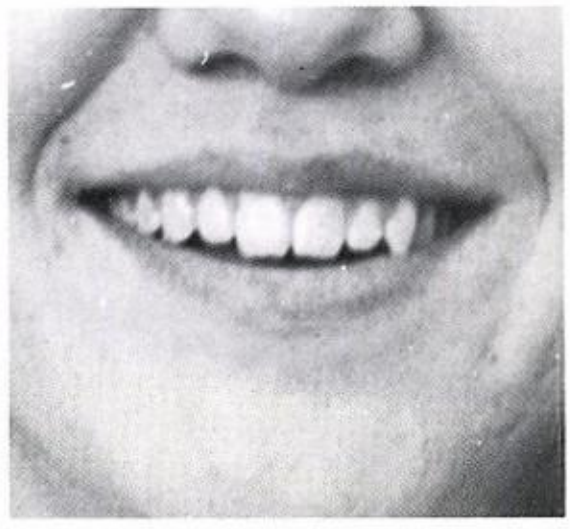
"If you wake up and don't want to smile . . ."







"Don't Stop"

If you wake up and don't want to smile,
If it takes just a little while,
Open your eyes and look at the day,
You'll see things in a different way.

Don't stop, thinking about tomorrow,
Don't stop, it'll soon be here,
It'll be here, better than before,
Yesterday's gone, yesterday's gone.

Why not think about times to come,
And not about the things that you've done,
If your life was bad to you,
Just think what tomorrow will do.

Don't stop, thinking about tomorrow,
Don't stop, it'll soon be here,
It'll be here, beter than before,
Yesterday's gone, yesterday's gone.

All I want is to see you smile,
If it takes just a little while,
I know you don't believe that it's true,
I never meant any harm to you.

Don't stop, thinking about tomorrow.
Don't stop, it'll soon be here,
It'll be here, better than before,
Yesterday's gone, yesterday's gone.

Don't you look back,
Don't you look back.

Enthusiasm displayed during Color Week

One of the highlights of the fall sports season came with the celebration of Color Week. The hidden spirit in NPHS was renewed as a result of encouragement from the Student Council, as they organized a poster party. Students from all three classes enthusiastically prepared decorations for the three floors.

At the traditional Powder Puff football game, once again the seniors dominated with victories over the juniors and sophomores. Students hunted all over town for two weeks collecting boxes for the annual bonfire, which took place after the girls' game.

Color day itself was evident in the halls and clasrooms as faculty and studdents decked themselves out in blue and gold.

Although the night was cold and windy, the spirit was still around during the car caravan and Homecoming bout.

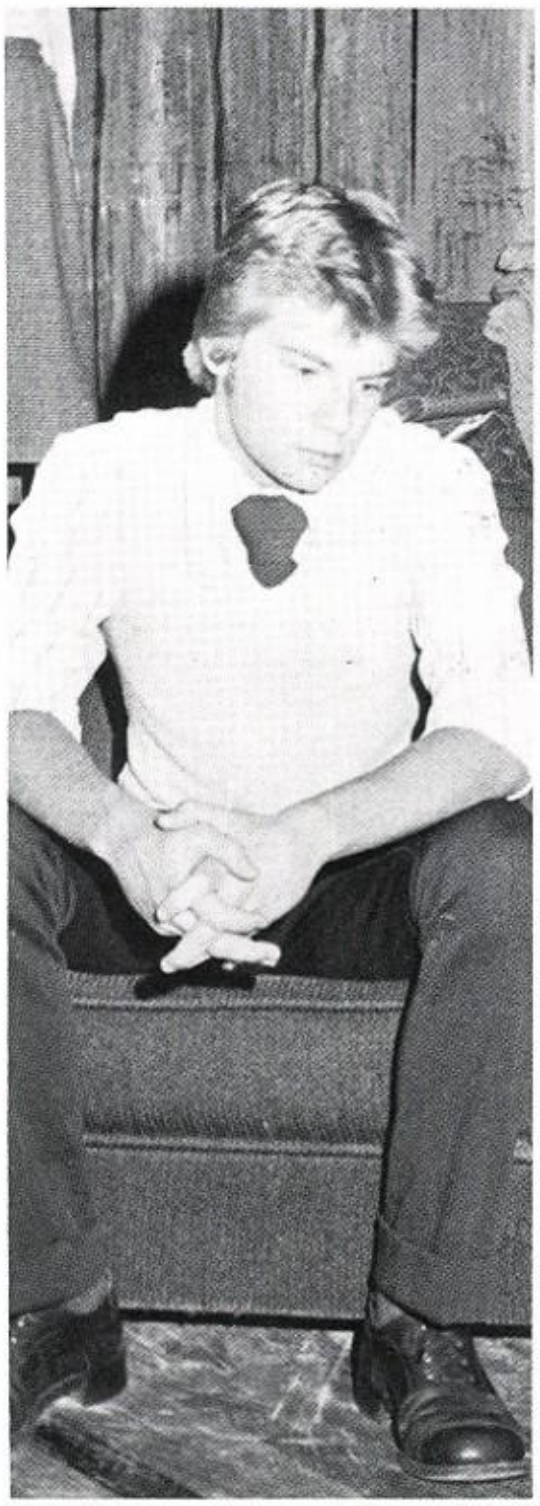
Need for secrecy haunts Jewish family



The Diary of Anne Frank is the story of a young Jewish girl hiding with her family. Later, they are joined by a family well known to her father. The story took place during the Nazi occupation of the Netherlands.

After struggling for two and a half years to keep their whereabouts unknown, the play ends as they are discovered and taken to concentration camps.

'Andante' presented at state play contest

The contest play "Andante," was directed by Mr. Skip Altig, and included five cast members.

"Andante" is the story of a concert violinist who loses the use of his hand in an accident. He has to make the decision of either trying to make something of his life or killing himself. He finally decides that his life is worth living if he can teach his son to play the violin. The play was given at the state play contest in Cozad and as a part of the night of one-acts.

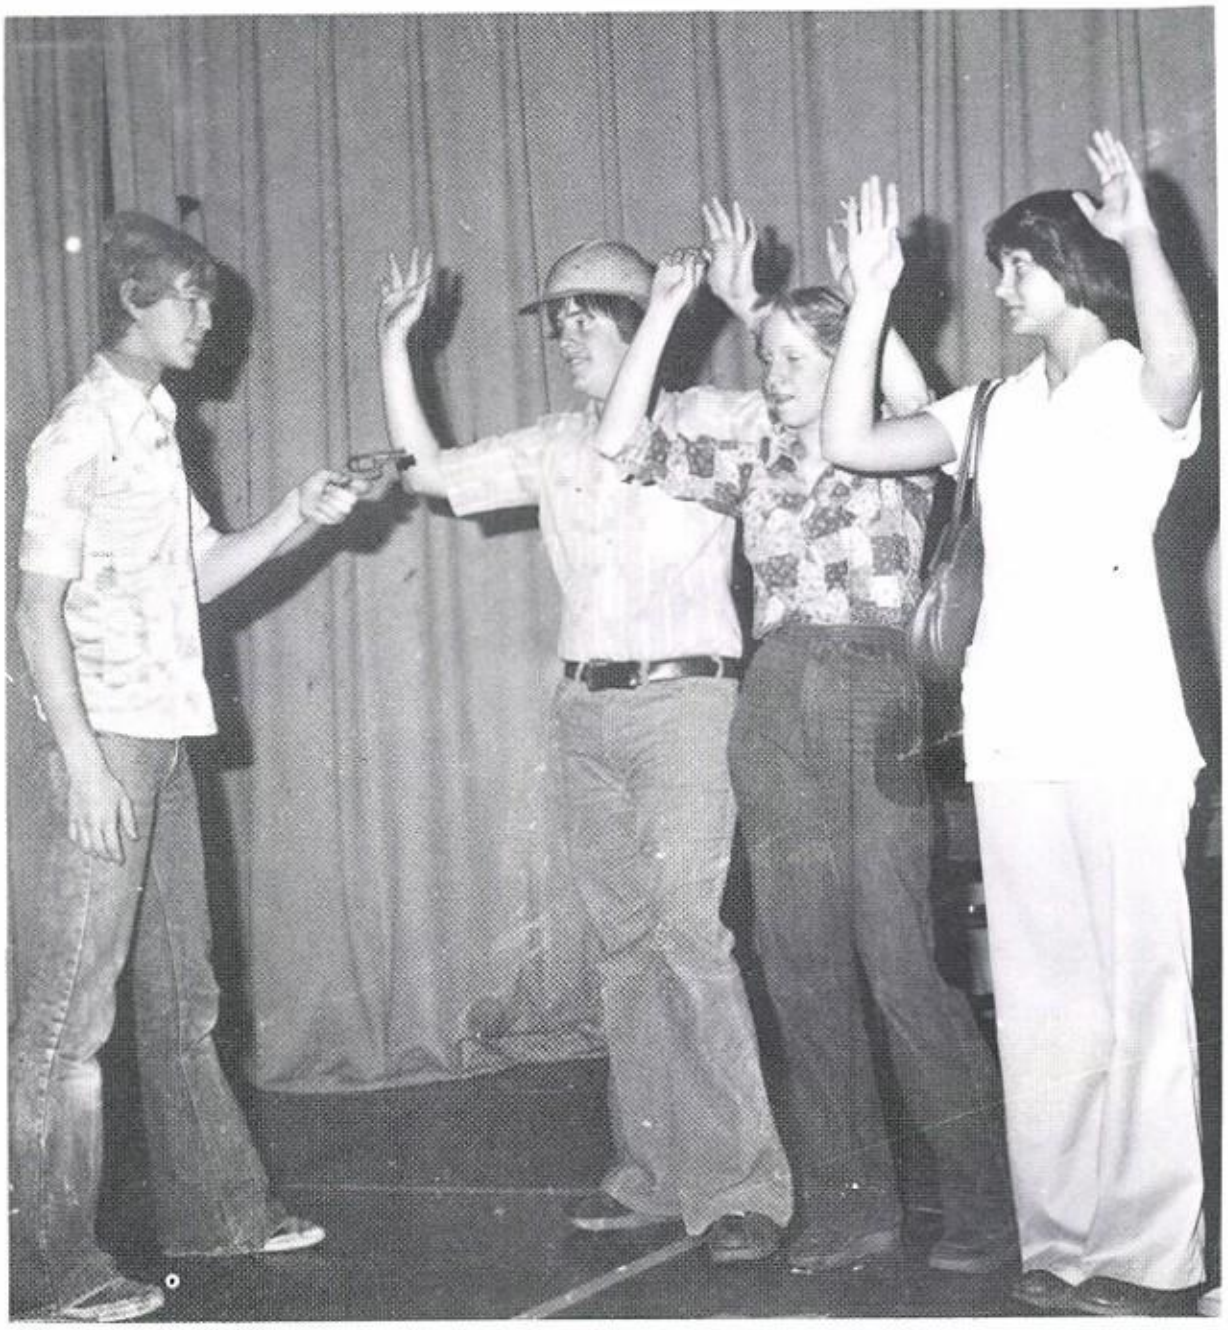
Student directed one-act plays presented

"Rise and Shine" begins on judgement day in a graveyard. Hepzibah (Kristie Willson) died and her late husband Henry (Mike Douty) married Jane (Chris Main), the lady next door. Hepzibah and Philip (Wade Nelson) visited and found out that Philip was Hepzibah's grandson. Everyone goes to judgement at the sound of Gabriel's horn. The play was directed by Cyndy Smith.

"Kiss Me Quick; I'm Double-Parked," was about a doctor trying to get to his wedding while many obstacles confront him. Complicating matters more, his nurse loves him and doesn't want him to get married.

Characters in the play were Lilly (Jeannie Spearman); Alex (Keith Kirk); Carrie Bishop (Mindy Gilliam); Matt (Steve Bade); Frank (Mark Henry); Edith (Chris Evans); Marqurite (Val Ashmore); Vera Prentiss (Elisha Hansen); Johnny (Joe Eshelman); Robber (Niel Smith); and Avon Lady (Chris Evans). The play was directed by Sandy Andersen.



"Waiting For The Bus" depicts Edith (Beth Conger), a crazy old woman, and her husband, Andrew (Joe Swanson). Edith pretends that her life is rich and fulfilling, when she has never done anything and never will. Other characters include Cynthia the street walker, played by Val Ashmore, and Benny the black shoeshine boy, played by Randy Slames. The play was directed by Cyndy Smith.

"Nobody Sleeps" is about Spike (David Trujillo), a burglar as he tries to rob the Busby house. The daughters Daisy (Shelly Scritsmier), Ada (Carin Roberts), and Glory (Julie Westman) discover Spike in their library. Mrs. Busby (Amy Brewer) enters and discovers him for what he really is — a paper boy, faking it as a professional robber. The play was directed by Diane Krebs.

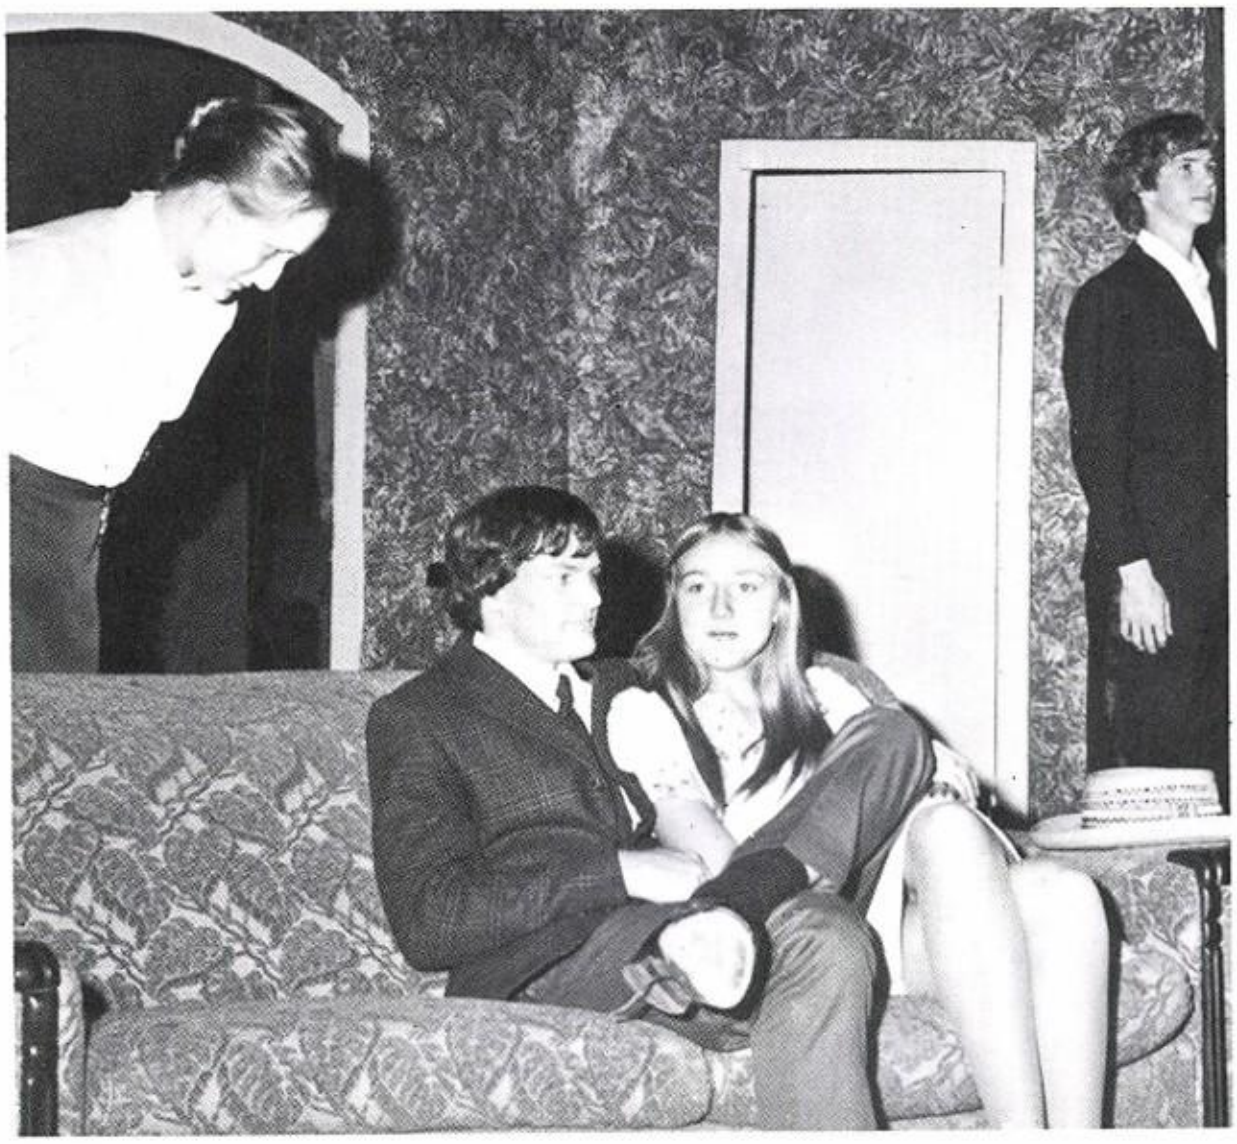
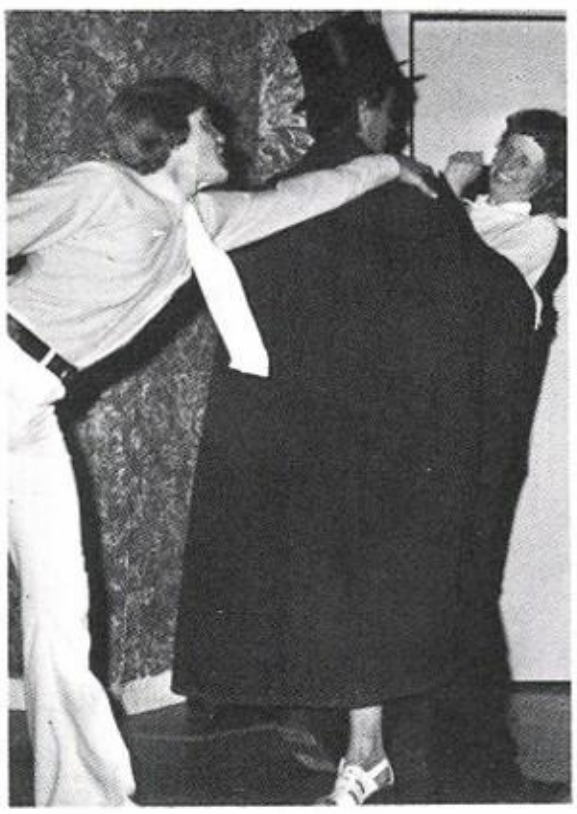
Drama Club presented the melodrama "No Mother to Guide Her or More to be Pitied than Censured," which came complete with a helpless heroine suffering from a loss of memory and a handsome hero, as well as a vile and venomous villain. The comic old fashion melodrama included twelve cast members and was directed by Mr. Derryl Barr.

UPPER RIGHT: Seated: Julie Westman as Aunt Lottie; Lois Lynes as Augusta Warriner. Standing: Hank Bauer as Talbot Twillingham; Kirk Kilgore as Baxter Seeker; Ann Girard as Fifi, the French maid. LOWER RIGHT: "Sylvester!" Effie Vandenburgh (Gretchen Pressnall) glowers at her husband, Sylvester Vandenburgh (Jim Westman) as he flirts with Jennifer Harvry (Sandy Andersen). Neil Smith played Hadley, the butler. BELOW: "Unhand her, you white-livered knave!" Casper Vandenburgh (Preston Havens) saves Spring Overton (Cyndy Smith) from the dastardly villain, Talbot Twillingham, (Hank Bauer).

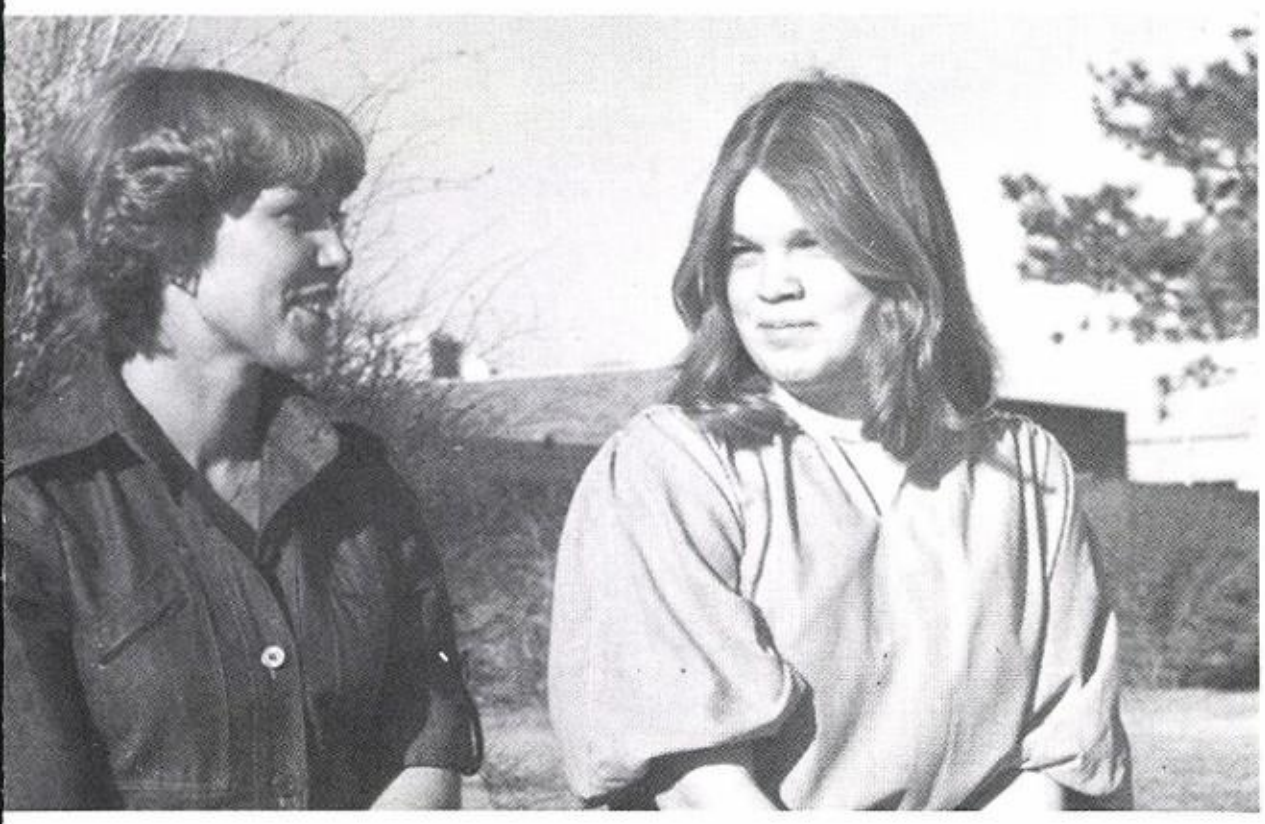




Exchange students explain experiences

After leaving North Platte, I suddenly found myself in a totally different place. Even though Australians speak English, I couldn't understand anyone because the dialect and accent is so different! My school was a state school and uniforms were worn by everyone. I began wearing my blue skirt, white blouse, and school sweater, and found out how simple it made things. Living in another country has helped me to realize many things about my own country, which has an important role in world affairs. As citizens of the U.S., we are very fortunate to live in a free world — we don't have the right to do as we please but we do have the liberty to do as we ought.

Kim Holm



I can hardly believe how nice and outgoing all you guys are. There were quite a few things different here, but after I got used to certain habits I enjoy it very much around here. I'll never forget any of you I've gotten to know. Thanks a lot for making my adjustment so easy.

Silvia

Wanda Borchers)

My experiences here are good. I'm learning many things such as the responsibility I have representing my country here. I have an opportunity to be here to learn your customs and language. This will help me when I return to Brazil.

Students participate during Spirit Week

Although Spirit Week came as a surprise to some students, many became involved and helped make it a success. On different days of the week, students came to school in their favorite T-Shirts, with their clothes on inside out, as well as their favorite sport outfit. Awards were given to the best dressed in each category at the Spirit Assembly. During the week the girls' basketball team was victorious over Ogallala, but the boys were cut short in a close game with Kearney. Despite the loss, students displayed pride and spirit throughout the whole game. Following the game, a homecoming dance sponsored by Stu-Co, was attended by many students.

'Come Sail Away' theme for 1978 prom

In presenting the prom for the seniors, the juniors chose "Come Sail Away" as the theme. Prom, along with the Senior Banquet, was at the Holiday Inn.

The band, Whale, provided entertainment for the evening and refreshments were served in the Holidome.

Mrs. Gordon Peeks was the coordinator with Junior Class sponsors serving as chaperones. Decorations were provided and put up by officers and members of the Junior Class.

Graduation ceremonies conducted for 401

Commencement exercises for the class of 1978 were on the senior high athletic field Thursday, May 25. The band played for the processional while their music was held down tightly with clothes pins.

Class president Jacque Patterson welcomed the guests and congratulated her classmates. The senior speakers spoke using different phrases of the class motto, "We cannot discover new oceans unless we have the courage to lose sight of the shore."

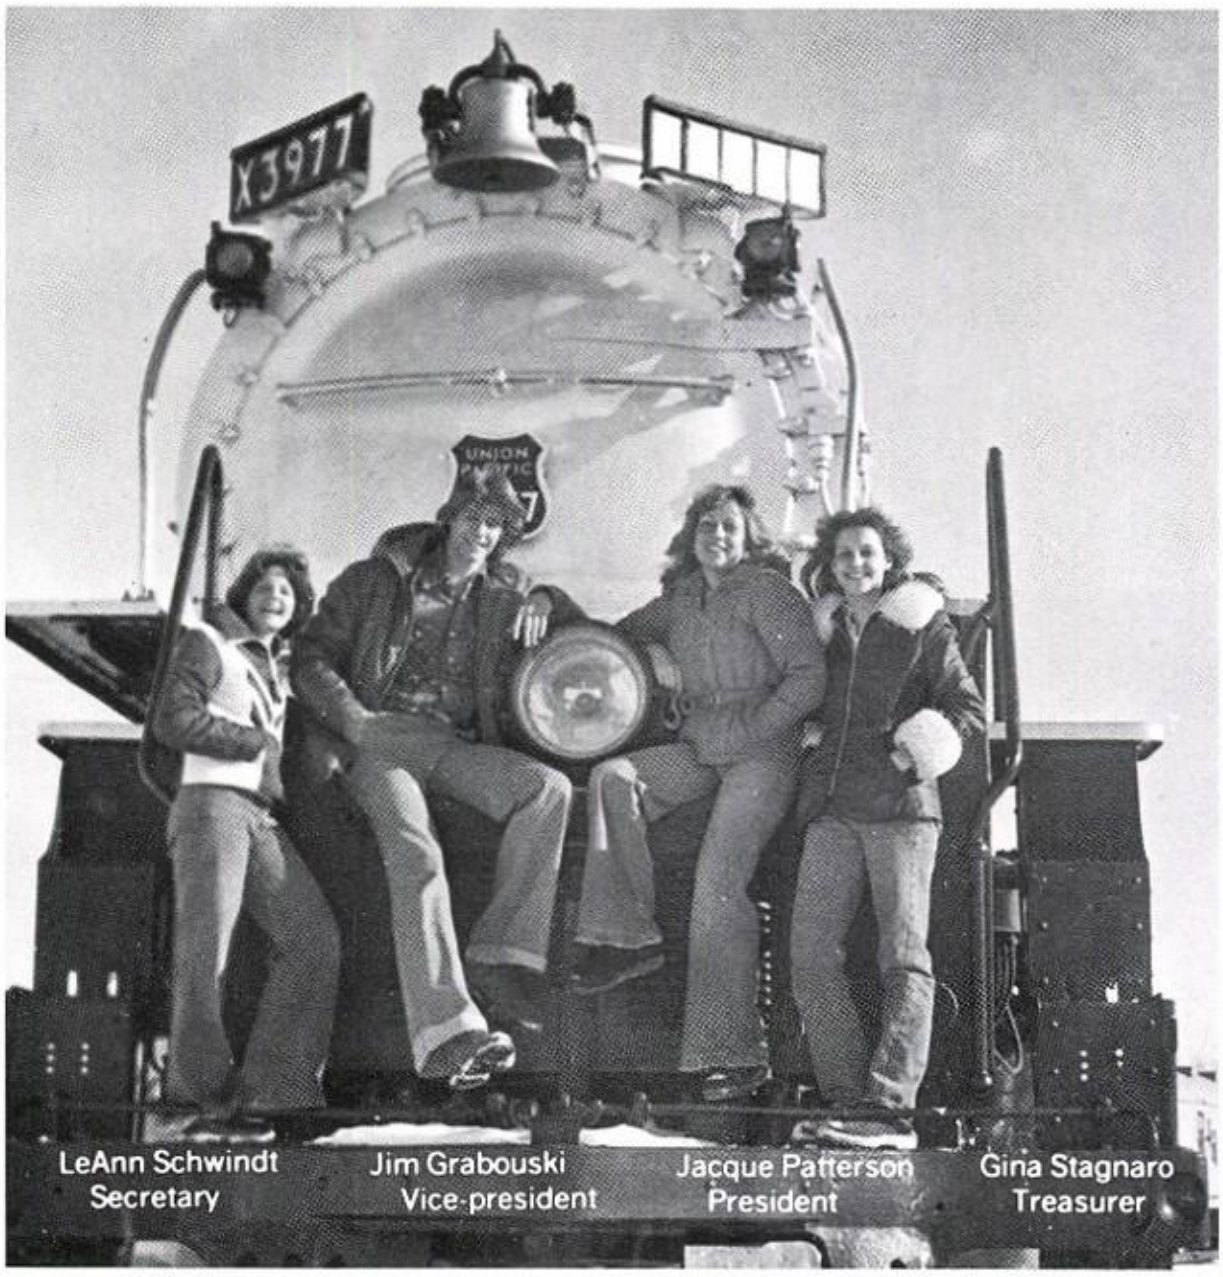
'WHY NOT THINK ABOUT TIMES TO COME, AND NOT ABOUT THINGS THAT YOU'VE DONE.'

Final year spent preparing for tomorrow



"Don't stop thinking about tomorrow . . ." applies most of all to the seniors. Unlike the sophomores and juniors who have nothing more to worry about then another year of school, the seniors have the beginning of their lives ahead of them.

As school begins, seniors are reminded of the need to consider their futures. By early November, graduation announcements are ordered and measurements taken for caps and gowns. Throughout the year, representatives from various colleges meewith stents interested in attending their college. Also, decisions must be made whether to go to college, get a job, or go to a technical school.

All these things combine to keep the seniors ". . . thinking about tomorrow."

"DON'T STOP,
IT'LL SOON BE HERE."

Junior Class works now, looks ahead

The tendency for juniors is to say " . . . it'll soon be here." Sometimes we are so preoccupied with what will come that we overlook what is now.

During the year, the Junior Class had the best decorated floor during Color Week.

Looking ahead, we see new surroundings as we will be the first graduating class to use the enlarged facility.

Although discontented with the prospect of no Open Campus, we look forward to the coming year and its events.

Sophomores' lives filled with anticipation.

After anticipating high school for a long time, sophomores found new experiences both challenging and troublesome.

Anticipation came again during the year as the issues of open campus and a larger school prevailed. Disappointment was expressed with the open campus issue because of the possibility it would not exist next year.

Sophomores can now anticipate being next year's juniors and,". . . it'll soon be here."

With only two returning varsity letterwomen, the Bulldog's volleyball team played with a never say die attitude. The girls, weakened by their lack of height and experience, ended the season with three wins to their credit. The spikers failed to make it to State, but took a respectable third place finish at Districts.

"On a won-loss basis it was a real disappointing season, but everyone was willing to work hard and to strive to improve. Because of those two things, we weren't losers," said Coach Linda Carlson as she described the young but persistent members of the varsity volleyball team. Laura Hiatt was named to the West Big Ten all-conference team and was also chosen as outstanding letterwoman for 1977.

Bulldogs hindered by lack of experience

The North Platte Bulldog football team went into the 1977 gridiron season with a young but enthusiastic squad. The Bulldogs had fourteen returning lettermen, with seven of them seeing starting action in previous years. Hampered by their lack of size and experience, the Bulldogs fell to all but two of their opponents.

With new faces in the offensive line and defensive secondary, the Bulldogs faced Lincoln East in their season opener. The Bulldog's fine defensive backfield could not stop the Spartan attack and the Bulldogs fell 0-32.

Mid-season came and with it came the Bulldog's first victory as North Platte downed Alliance in a hard fought battle. North Platte's second win came against Scottsbluff as the Bulldogs trounced the Bearcats 29-14.

Jeff Castle and Marty Thalken, senior co-captains, were named to the West Big Ten All-Conference team. Thalken was also named the outstanding football letterman. Castle received the Harold Cooper Award as the best defensive player.

State runner-up tops gymnasts' season

All systems were go when the gymnasts started practice in mid-August. With long hours of work, the Bulldogs turned in another rewarding season as the state runner-up under the guidance of head coach, Gary Cooper, and assistant coach, Rich Reinert. The Platters were unbeaten in seven duals as they defeated Lincoln Northeast twice, Beatrice, Lincoln Southeast, Lincoln High, and Lincoln Northeast.

The gymnasts came home for the traditionally tough Trans-Nebraska meet. Here the Bulldogs turned in a first place performance over six other teams. After the team captured the District crown at Beatrice, nine gymnasts qualified for the State Tournament in Lincoln where the North Platte Bulldogs were runner-up. "The season was very rewarding," coach Cooper said. "We set our goals on being runner-up at state. We knew Omaha would be tough and we didn't want to set our goals too high. We got what we wanted."

Tennis team places twelfth at state meet

During 1977 the North Platte High School tennis team had a very successful year against some strong competition. At the state meet the team placed 12th out of 26 in Class A.

The netters invitational record was 18-9. These are meets where at least five other schools compete. North Platte's dual record was 5-3 against teams in our district.

Coach Dan Pierce said, "I believe with only average tournament experience for most of the players the team showed a lot of come from behind spirit to win many of their matched."

The most valuable player for 1977 was Senior Don Miller.

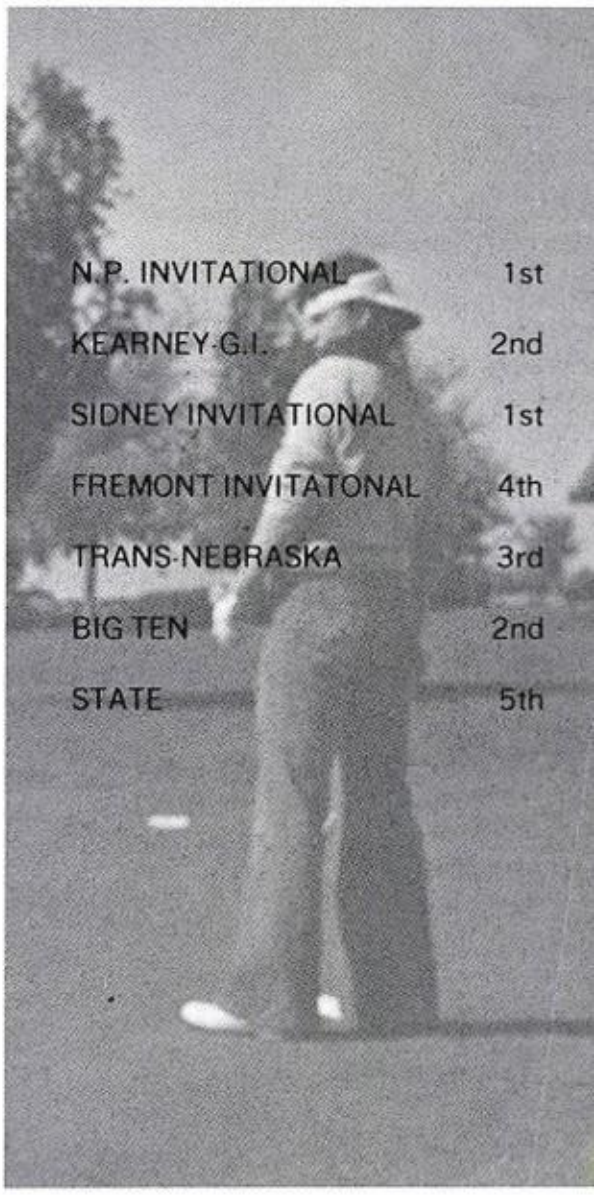
Bulldog golfers enjoy rewarding season



There wasn't an abundance of members for the North Plate High Bulldogs girls' golf team as Head Coach Sally Roberts reported only five squad members this fall. The season was much improved over last year's. There was also a change in practice. "Last year I stressed hitting shag balls, but this year we played a lot more. Most of the girls came with their swings already developed," said Coach Roberts. Val Skinner was the team's top prospect for the season and she came through for the Bulldogs by winning the State Championship title.

Young golfers have disappointing season

Under the guidance of Head Coach Gary Anderson, the NPHS golfers started their season with a fifteen member team. There were five returning lettermen to lead the team.

The season began with an invitational here in North Platte, the team's only home meet. They placed second at the Scottsbluff meet, fourth at the Mid-Nebraska Invitational in Kearney, and placed fifth at the Trans-Nebraska.

The team's season ended at the District meet. "It was a long disappointing season," Coach Anderson noted. "I'd been hoping for much better results. The varsity golfers were capable of beating most teams in the district. They were young and inconsistent, and having the golf season in the fall was not good for North Platte's season, " he said.

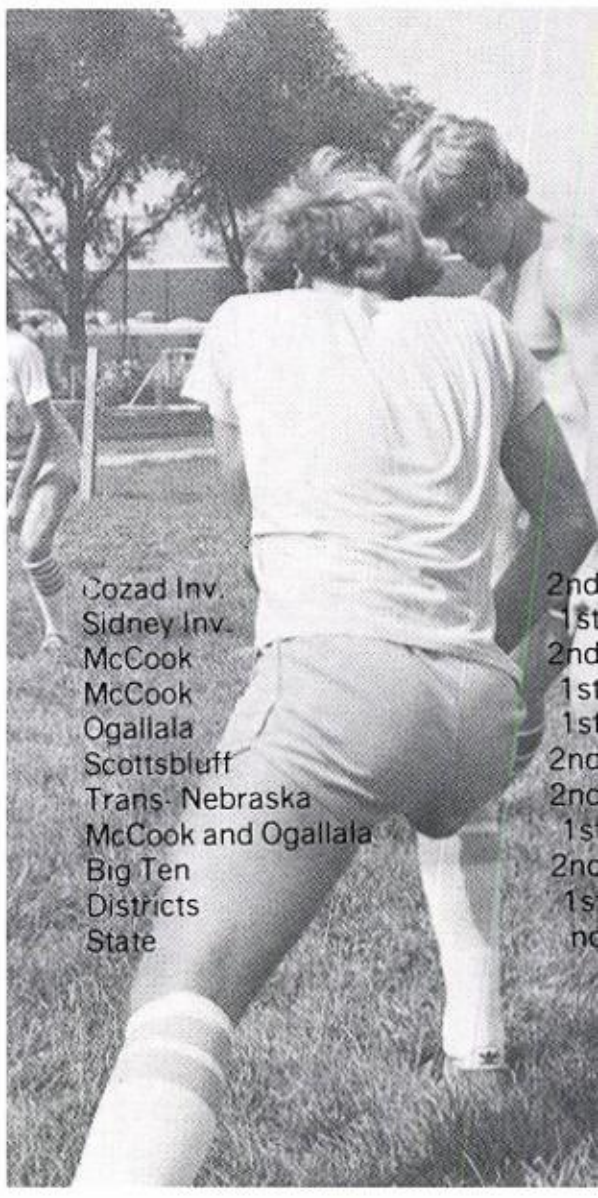
With four returning letter-men, the North Platte Cross Country team was one to be reckoned with. The harriers placed either first or second in all of their ten meets including state where they were runner-up to Kearney.

Brad Sable, the Bulldog's leading runner, placed first in all of the meets except one. Sable also won the State Cross Country Championship title.

The Bulldogs had a new coach this year, Doug Martin from Gothenburg. "This is as fine a group of athletes as I've been around," Martin commented. "They run their hardest at every meet and you can't ask for much more than that.



Inexperienced team makes trip toLincoln

North Platte high's Bulldogs climaxed the 1978 season with a trip to the State tournament by defeating Hastings and Grand Island in the District Tournament. The Bulldogs lost in the first round against a strong Omaha Central team in a close well played game, which ended their season with a 9-10 record.

North Platte featured a relatively young team with only one senior in the starting line-up. Chuck Anderson and Zane Smith were named to the West Big Ten All-Conference team.

Coach Millsap said, "It was a rewarding season due to the fact that the Bulldogs far surpassed the expectations of sportscasters."

Grapplers start slow, send five to state

In its fifteenth year at NPHS, the wrestling team opened the season with only seven returning lettermen. "We started slow, due to injuries, but as the season went on it go better," Coach Ben Barends said. The team finished the regular season with a 1-6 dual record defeating Ogallala. The Bulldogs improved in Invitational action and succeeded in winning some individual titles. At the Kearney Invitational they finished sixth and at Lexington they placed fifth. Still improving their showing, at the Spartan Invitational, they took second place. At Trans-Nebraska, the grapplers finished in third place and had three first place medalists Jeff Castle, Marty Thalken, and Jim Stewart. Next action was the Big Ten meet where the team placed eigthth.

Concluding the season at the District meet, they made their best showing of the season. Mark Fiedler and Eugene Stevenson were both District Champions as well as Jim Stewart, who lost an overtime decision to take second place. This meet also qualified five wrestlers to go on to the state meet in Lincoln. They were Mark Fiedler, Jim Stewart, Marty Thalken, all seniors; and Randy Rasmussen and Eugene Stevenson, both juniors. The only person to place at the state meet was Jim Stewart for third place, wrestling at 98 pounds. "For the number of wrestlers we had at state we could have done better and should have placed higher than we did," Barends commented. "Our season was pretty good considering the competition in this district and that there are only five wrestlers with varsity experience."

Team captains for the 1978 season were Jeff Castle, Mark Fiedler, and Marty Thalken. The fastest pin of the season was by Jim Stewart in 33 seconds. Jim also set team record in best season record of 17-3-0, and best career record of 64-14-0.

Team gains through enthusiasm, hard work

With an enthusiastic and hard working team, the girls' basketball team ended their season with wins over Ogallala and Gothenburg. Coaches for the Bulldogs were Mr. Ron Mohs and Mrs. Patti Severson, varsity, and Mr. Dave Stevens, junior varsity.

The varsity team had a 2-10 record and the JV team finished 5-9. The sophomore team finished with a 3-2 record.

Coach Ron Mohs said, "This year was a good year of coaching girls' basketball because the girls were enthusasitc and willing to work hard."

He went on to say, "The seniors gave me a lot of help and showed leadership to the younger members of the team."

Susie Quirk, a sophomore, was named to the West Big Ten All-Conference team. With seven returning varsity squad members, the outlook for the 1979 season is very optimistic.

Girls' tennis team finish best ever at state

The girls' tennis team placed eighth at the state meet, their best finish in State competition.

According to Coach Linda Carlson, "One of the highest honors the girls received was the sportsmanship award at the Kearney Invitational."

Deb Honerman and Mary Niebauer played No. 1 and No. 2 singles respectively. Pam Powers and Charity Hill played No. 1 doubles while Jodi Helms and Julie Phagan played No. 2 doubles.

Chosen as the outstanding player for the season was Mary Niebauer.

Girl gymnasts hindered by inexperience

Starting its third year under its third coaching staff, the girls gymnastics team was hindered by inexperience. "When the program is young and the team is young, many mistakes are made. Our win-loss record was not fantastic, but the experience the younger members of the team received will show up in the years to come," Coach Rich Reinert commented.

The top scorers for the season were Beth Jording on the vault and uneven parallel bars; D'Nae Spencer on the beam; and Angie Greco on the floor exercise. Beth Jording went to the state meet competing on the vault, but did not get into the finals. D'Nae Spencer was the strongest all-around competitor. LeAnn Schwindt, senior, and Angie Greco, junior, were the captains for the 1978 season. Coach Reinert was assisted by Mrs. Linda Anderson.

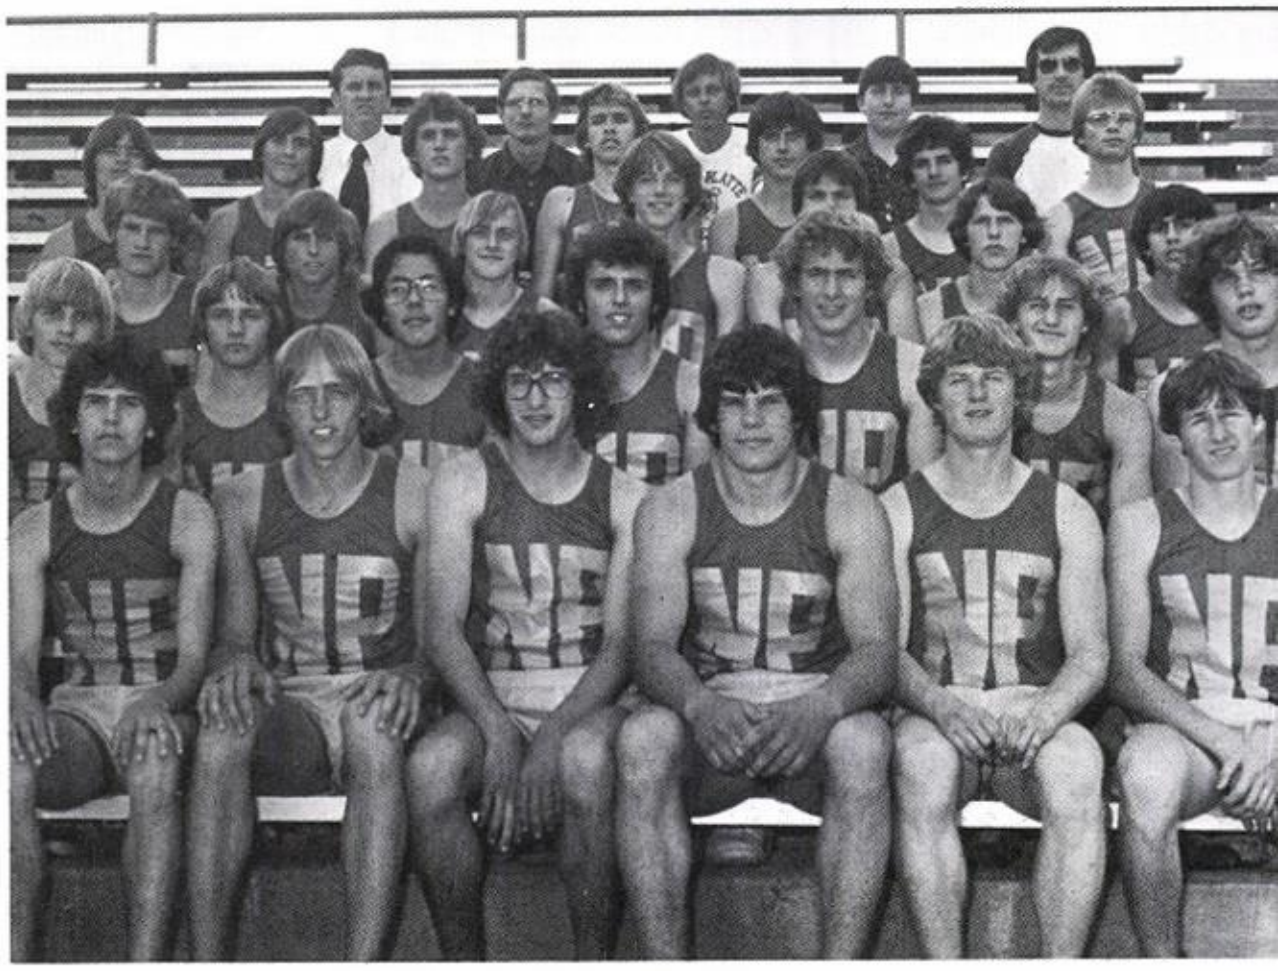
Bulldogs fifth at state as Sable takes gold



The 1978 Bulldog track team had twelve qualifiers go to the state meet in Omaha where North Platte tied with Omaha Tech for 5th place. Brad Sable captured a gold medal in the two-mile and a silver in the mile. Dave Lowe tied for third in the vault, and the mile relay consisting of Rod Anderson, Jason Anderson, Rod Carroll, and Mike O'Dell were 6th.

North Platte also qualified for state in the two-mile relay, long jump, triple jump, 440, and the 880. Both the mile and the two-mile relays posted their best times ever at the state meet.

Head Coach for the Bulldogs was Mr. Doug Martin. He was assisted by Mr. Robert Starr, weights; Mr. Robert McFarland, sprints and hurdles; and Mr. Gary Cooper as long jump and pole vault coach. Mr. Martin coached the distance runners.

Chosen as the outstanding track letterman for 1978 was Brad Sable.

With only six graduating senior track members, the outlook for the 1979 season is optimistic.

Girls' relay teams show season strength

With 35 girls out for track this year, they made some strong showings. As the season got into full swing, the team traveled to Kearney for an indoor meet where they tied for fourth place. Lexington was defeated by the Platters in the next meet. At the Scottsbluff-McCook dual, North Platte placed second to a tough Scottsbluff team, but took first in the Ogallala-McCook dual.

On to Trans-Nebraska, the girls took fifth place, and at the Big Ten meet the team placed fourth, going on to take fifth place at the Districts meet.

The 440-880 relay team composed of Joni Thayer, Nancy Wicks, Laura Hiatt, and Claudia Halligan place either first or second in all of their meets losing twice to Scottsbluff. The relay teams qualified for the state meet. Team members also qualifying for state were Joni Thayer in the 220, Laura Hiatt running the 100, and Charlie Lewis throwing the discus.

At the state meet, North Platte's 440 relay team took second, the 880 relay team taking third, but in team scoring the Bulldogs did not place.

StuCo experiments with many new plans

Student Council tried many new things this year, most proving successful. Bulldog of the Month, an award given to an outstanding boy or girl of that month, was chosen by a committee consisting of two Student Council members, the president of each class, three faculty members, and Mr. Sedlacek and Mr. Roth. The awards were announced at the monthly school board meetings and each winner was given a watch.

To help promote spirit at the basketball games, Student Council set up "The Spirit Club." Any student could belong. All that was required was to buy a blue and gold T-shirt inscribed with North Platte High School and sit in a certain section.

Student Council sponsored two movies "Earthquake" and "Tommy", homecoming and Color Week, hosted the District Convention with St. Pat's, and sponsored one bus to an out-of-town game. They also bought a Cardiopulmonary resuscitation dummy for classes next year. Four scholarships of $250 were given to Mike Alexander, Jim Grabouski, Kim Holm, and DeeJo Madison. Alternates were Todd Beers, Jerry Murtaugh, Melissa Rouch, and Margaret Mahular. These were chosen by a committe of Student Council members.

Separate squads added to spirit program

Separate squads for football and basketball were added to the cheerleading program. This gave more girls a chance to be a cheerleader. It also alleviated the problem of cheerleaders being absent from games because of their own athletic participation. Under the new rules, cheerleaders cannot participate in a sport the same season she is a cheerleader.

During basketball season, the cheerleaders were joined by the Spirit Club, a newly organized group set up by Student Council.

Parties, banquet, tea, mark Tri-Hi-Y year

Mickey Mouse, L'il Abner as well as Raggedy Ann and Andy were some of the cartoon characters you might have seen at the get-acquainted party of Tri-Hi-Y, a girls service organization.

Some of the activities of the group included Thanksgiving Baskets to needy families, ringing bells for the Salvation Army, and a Christmas party sponsored with Key Club for underprivileged children.

The Father-Daughter Banquet, a time when the girls honor their fathers, was in February. At this time the Royalty was announced as Tammy Slater, Queen; Annette Roth, Junior Attendant; and Linda Kellogg, Sophomore Attendant.

A Tea for the Mothers was given in March, with senior girls modeling Prom Dresses as part of the entertainment.

To finish off the year, a breakfast was scheduled to honor seniors and install new officers .

As money making projects, the club sold key chains with carved Bulldog heads. They also sold candy at basketball games.

Girls get sweaters, members earn shirts

With the second year of a combined Letterclub, girls decided to join the boys in wearing letter sweaters. To distinguish the two, the girls got gold with two blue stripes around the sleeves.

Some of the activities of the club included picnics (one for faculty members and the other with GIA). The group initiated new members and held a banquet at the end of the year.

The main money-making projects came from selling concessions at basketball games and the girls' state track meet. Letter Club also sponsored the Twirp Dance.

This year, if a Letter Club member sold three times at the basketball games, they received a blue and gold shirt as a reward.

Three scholarships were given to senior members. Two named for Del Bailer-Rosco Tolly were given to Pam Powers and Marty Thalken, and the Claire-Sloan Memorial scholarship was given to Jeff Castle.

Key Club entertains children, sells candy

This year's Key Club tried to get back on its feet by increasing its membership. Key Club began the year by giving $200 to the United Way. They held a Halloween party and a Christmas party for underprivileged children.

The club also sponsored a child in Brazil and sold concessions at the football games.

Drama Club plays staged, policies revised

Drama Club underwent a change of policies this year with additional meetings and also an increase in membership. The club sponsored three plays: "The Diary of Anne Frank," the student directed one-acts, and the 'mellow drammer', "No Mother to Guide Her; or More to be Pitied than Censured."

"Attendance at 'The Diary of Anne Frank' was greater than that of any previous play," said Mr. Derryl Barr, sponsor, "The attendance at the other plays were about normal."

GIA continues fun events and activities

GIA started the year off as the Seniors worked together to build a cup castle at the get acquainted pizza party.

At the Powder Puff game, the seniors again defeated the juniors and sophomores in a score of 22-0 and 8-0.

January through March the basketball and co-ed volleyball intramurals took place. The winning team in basketball was the Herpes IV with a record of 5-1 and in volleyball Laura Hiatt's team won with a record of 8-2.

The Mother-Daughter Tea in the spring gave girls a chance to be recognized for their participation in the activities throughout the year.

The year closed with the annual picnic with Letter Club at which Miss GIA and Mr. Bulldog was announced.

Blue and Gold Pacers have busy season

The Blue and Gold Pacers had the busiest season since they were started in 1971.

They performed at one football game, four home basketball games, the Nebraska Red-White Basketball game, Boy's District and State Tournaments, and the Denver Broncos-Jaycees Allstars Benefit Basketball game.

To pay for the year end banquet as well as expenses to perform at the various games, the girls sold concessions at the Head East concert last summer.

Concluding the year, the drill team scheduled a banquet at which time sophomores put on a skit and awards and gifts were presented.

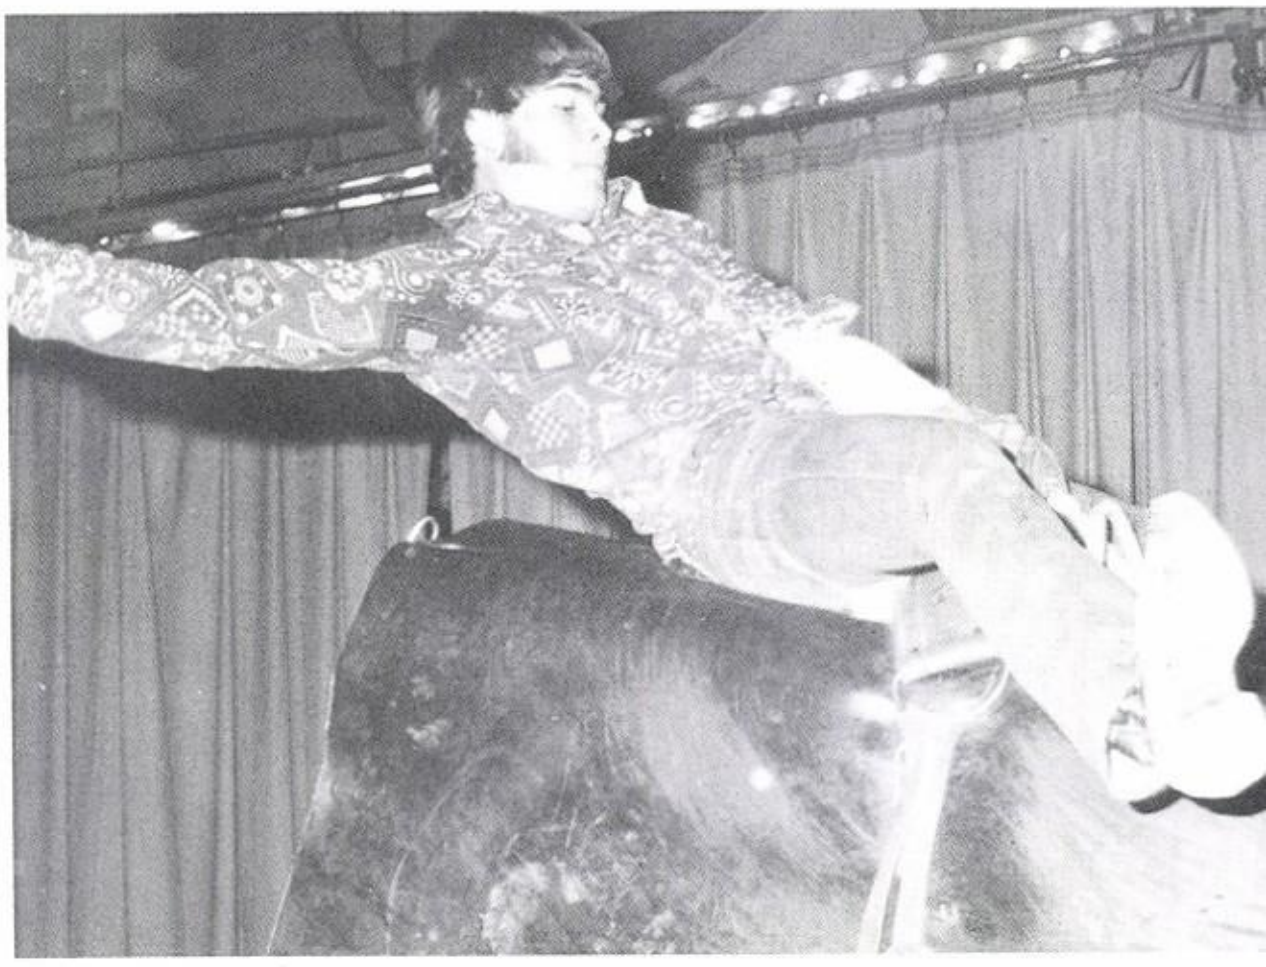
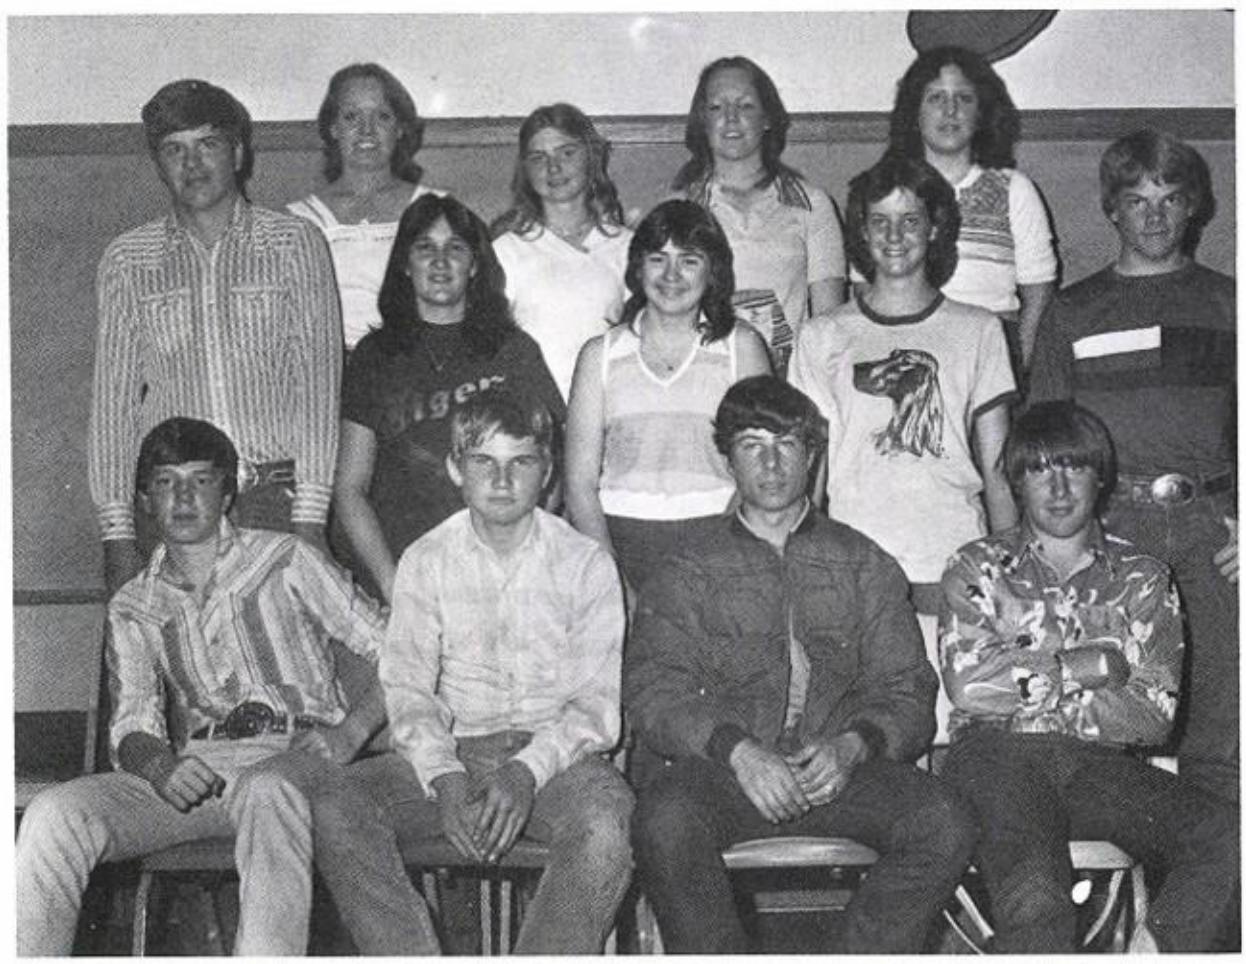
Hard work, long hours produces rodeo

Rodeo Club spent the year preparing for the high school rodeo May 5 and 6. Money-making projects included selling calendars and booster cards.

Although the weekend was plagued with rain, the rodeo went ahead with its scheduled events including calf roping, goat roping, bareback riding, steer wrestling, barrel racing, and pole bending.

Mr. Rich Reinert, sponsor, was again a clown for the rodeo.





(rodeo all-right) and that is that you best be goin' out for track this year. We could really use great runner!? Thanks for bein so sweet & good luck with you-know-who.

Love,
Susie (Thompson)

FFA provides fun, learning in busy year

A busy year provided fun and learning for members of the Future Farmers of America.

The group had various contests throughout the year including a Range and Land Judging contest, a Livestock Judging in which the senior members received second at Districts and a Red at State, and the junior members placed fourth at Districts and received a Red at State. They also placed second at Districts in the Farm Wiring contest.

In cooperation with the Police Department, the group sponsored a Bike Rodeo, which gave grade schoolers a chance to test their biking and safety skills.

As money raising projects to pay for the many activitites, the members sold magazine subscriptions, had candy and fruit sales, and had a slave auction in which 22 members were sold for eight hours of labor. Other activities included a tea for teachers, a CPR course sponsored with the Fire Department, a Sweetheart Dance and a Parent-Member Banquet.

Six members attended the National Convention in Kansas City, which consisted of five days of leadership workshops and conventions.

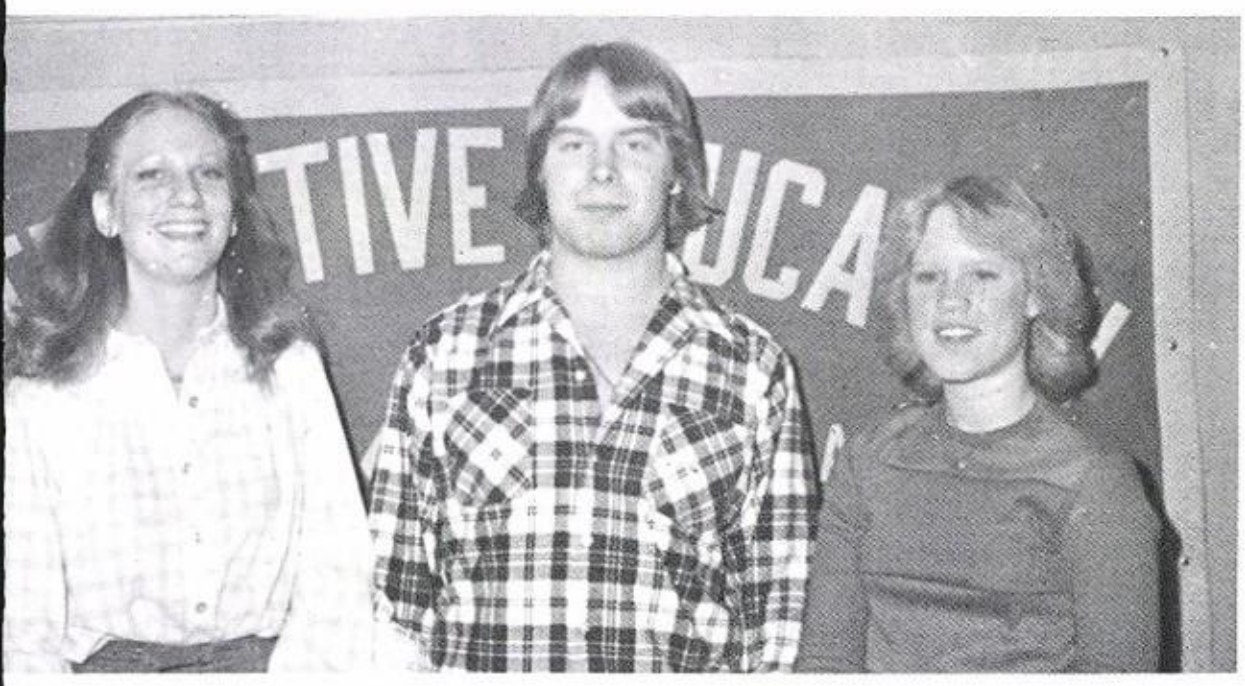
DECA takes State, goes on to Nationals



DECA combines the teaching of business and retailing in the classroom with actual on-the-job experience. It also helps the student better understand the free enterprise system.

DECA also gives the distributive education student a chance to compete against other DECA members at state and national conventions.

At the State Convention in Omaha, the local team placed first, qualifying for the National Convention in Washington, for the fifth consecutive year.

Besides the conventions, DECA members also participated in workshops and money-raising projects.

At the annual Employer-Employee Banquet Ms. Jane Doud was named the Educator of the Year and Mr. Jim Herrod, the manager of Sixth Street at A and Carr, was named Employer of the Year.

Mr. Patrick J. Tritt is the sponsor.

Members 'Don't Stop' as deadline nears

In meeting a deadline, the yearbook staff must lay out pages, write copy and headlines, and crop pictures; often spending long hours before and after school. After meeting a deadline, it's not all "fun and games" as there are five deadlines.

Besides working individually, the staff has to be able to cooperate and work as a team. Only then can the staff work smoothly and flow from one deadline to another.

Newspaper means hard work, long hours

Hard work, long hours, and last minute rushes were trademarks of the year for the Bulldogger staff.

With two deadlines per month, members of the newspaper staff were faced with things such as headlines, pictures, editorials, and ads.

Journalists make publications a success

Quill and Scroll is a National Journalism Honorary Society, consisting of yearbook and newspaper staff members, as well as photographers.

Members must be in the upper one-third of their class and are chosen by Mrs. Keith Blackledge, advisor to both newspaper and annual. Yearbook staff members also must have met all deadlines, and newspaper staff members need at least 160 inches to qualify.

With several new and inexperienced members, the photograhers had some difficulties in getting pictures taken and printed for the newspaper and annual staffs. But the job did get done.

JCL host convention, wins at Regional Hosting the state Junior Classical League Convention marked one highlight of the NPHS Latin Club. Nine schools participated in the usual oratory, certamen, costume contest, written tests, and olympics.

For the first time a one-act play contest was part of the state convention with the NPHS Club placing second.

The Club went on to become overall champions at the Regional Convention in Estes Park, CO. The sponsor is Latin teacher, Mr. Gary Anderson.

Debate acquires new coach, young team

Debate: a series of arguments for or against the year's resolution Resolved: That the federal government should guarantee comprehensive medical care for all citizens in the United States.

Each team debates twice as the affirmative and twice as the negative. The affirmative is a constructive speech and the negative is a rebuttal.

Qualifiers for State included Brad Morrison and Carri Hall in the novice division; Preston Havens and John Grabouski, Mike Alexander and Keith Kirk in the varsity division.

Band members added a spring concert Apr. 18 to provide another public performance. Also new this year were the flag girls who marched with the band during half-time.

The band's winter concert was Jan. 24, and they participated in Spectrum in Sound VIII in May.

They also performed during football half-time and raised money selling candy in October.

The pep band also played for assemblies and basketball games.

Girls' hard work produces great sound

A daily class period provided the members of Girls' Glee a chance to learn new songs and practice the ones they already knew. Class time was also spent learning new types of songs.

The group also practiced for the concerts in which they participated including the annual Vespers program in December and also in Spectrum in sound VIII, which included most musical groups in the school.

for choir

Along with hard work and practice came reward for the NPHS choir. Their musical presentation "Carnival" in March was a big success.

Other activities included the Vespers program at Christmas, and Spectrum in Sound VIII in May. Selected members also attended the state music clinic in Lincoln.

Swing choir and stage band gave their annual concert Apr. 4, performing popular songs with original choreography.

Choir stages musical production, Carnival

"Carnival" is the story of an orphan named Lili (Mary Van Voorst) who goes to the circus to find her father's friend but discovers he is dead. She stays with the circus and falls in love with the magician, Marco the Magnificent (Mark Synovec), who does not return her love but leads her on.

The puppeteer, Paul Berthalet (Paul Roberts), shows his love for her through his puppets.

The circus, run by B. F. Schlege (Hank Bauer) is dwindling away, but as Lili works at the puppet booth, the whole circus comes to life again.

Rosalie (Susan Axthelm), Marco's assistant, and Marco find that working with each other has built a strong relationship, and they leave the circus for a better life.

. Deciding to leave the circus because of emotional conflict, Lili makes a final visit to the puppet booth. As she walks away she hears two of the puppets conversing.

Pulling back the curtain she finds Paul and realizes that the feelings of his puppets were actually his.

'. . . Yesterday's gone, yesterday's gone'

As the school year begins, we contemplate things to come; as it ends, we look back on things that have happened. Graduating seniors look forward to college, jobs, and other goals for their future. Underclassmen look forward to a combination of the two schools into one and a schedule and credit change.

As we retrace our year we remember our accomplishments and our failures. Although the failures may stay in our thoughts and the road ahead may be rocky, we must keep on going and "don't stop."

Lisa,

To a great friend
and fantastic person.
Remember all the good times
at the pool, but forget the bad.
You're sweet, and good-looking, and a big blast to be around. Stay the same and remember me always

love
Joel (Timmons)

Lisa
Ya got a great sens of humor
keep your mind out of the gutter
& your head above the water + you'll be O.K.
good luck with everything Mark
(Taylor)

Lisa
I have not known you for very long but I hope we have been friends for many years to come. Keep smiling + good luck with everything in the future.
James (Williams)

Lisa
To a Really GREAT girl
THAT has got to BE ONE of the most wildest &
CRAZY water skiers.

Love
Randy
